

AVM integrates videoconferencing into Davies Arnold Cooper offices

Background

Davies Arnold Cooper is an international commercial legal firm which specializes in dispute resolution and real estate. Established over 80 years ago, the firm now has over 220 partners and lawyers in offices in London, Manchester, Madrid and Mexico City. Davies Arnold Cooper is highly rated in commercial litigation, product liability and construction. In January 2008, the law firm acquired London-based KSB Law LLP.

Solution

Davies Arnold Cooper required an improved communications system which could link offices around the world. The firm also needed a technology which would save them the time and money from international traveling.

Outcome

AVM installed Tandberg HD videoconferencing systems. The C60 and C20 codecs along with Tandberg infrastructure were used to simplify the user experience for ISDN/IP calls as well as multipoint and recorded/Streamed calls. These state-of-the-art video installations enabled efficient HD videoconferencing between various Davies Arnold Cooper office locations.

The internationally renowned commercial law firm described the work of AVM as having generated numerous benefits for the legal company.

Benefits

- Video Conferencing between international locations – saves travel costs and time
- HD integrated video and collaboration technology
- Superior quality stereo sound
